21st Century Tea

There are so many ways that our immune systems can be overwhelmed ... it's in our air, our water, our food, our workplace, our stress. This blend of organic and wild herbs is not only helpful but comforting, strengthening and tasty.

- 1 part red clover blossoms
- 1 part nettle leaves
- 1 part pau d'Arco
- 1 part alfalfa & sage leaves
- 1 part St.Johns wort tops
- 1 part ginger root

Place all herbs in a tea ball or bag, put in your nicest or most favorite cup or mug, and cover with boiling water. Steep for 10 minutes.

Remove tea ball or bag, and add sugar, honey, sweetener, milk, cream or whatever, to taste.

ADD/ADHD Remetea

1 Teaspoon Hops

1 Teaspoon Gotu Kola

Bring 1 1/2 cups of water to a boil. Place the herbs inside, place lid on tightly and let it steep for 5 minutes. Drink twice a day.

After Dinner Carminative Tea

1 cup water

1 tablespoon fennel seeds

Bring the water and fennel seeds to a boil with the lid on the pan and let sit for 15 minutes and enjoy this calming cup of tea. Fennel is a wonderful herb for digestion and can help your body increase its ability to digest a big meal or a meal with lots of fat.

Allergy Season Blend

Cool minty, citrus flavour to assist you with the discomfort associated with allergy season.

- 1 part nettle
- 1 part peppermint
- 1 part spearmint
- 1 part yerba santa
- 1 part eyebright
- 1 part lemongrass leaves
- 1 part calendula
- 1 part red clover
- 1 part lavender flowers
- 1 part fennel seeds
- a pinch of stevia

Place all herbs in a tea ball or bag, put in your nicest or most favorite cup or mug, and cover with boiling water. Steep for 10 minutes.

Remove tea ball or bag, and add sugar, honey, sweetener, milk, cream or whatever, to taste.

Aphrodite Blend Tea

A sensuous, aromatic blend with just the right tint of zest for your palate, and sure to kindle flames! A delicate, but dashing combination makes this one of your most enjoyable cups of tea.

- 1 part Damiana leaves
- 1 part rose petals
- 1 part peppermint leaves
- 1 part muira puama
- 1 part ginkgo leaves
- 1 part orange peel
- 1 part cinnamon bark chips
- pinch of stevia.

Place all herbs in a tea ball or bag, put in your nicest or most favorite cup or mug, and cover with boiling water. Steep for 10 minutes.

Remove tea ball or bag, and add sugar, honey, sweetener, milk, cream or whatever, to taste.

Bladder Infections Tea

1 1/2 oz dried Goldenrod
1/4 oz Juniper Berries*
3/4 oz chopped Dandelion root
3/4 oz chopped Rose Hips

Pour 1 cup boiling water over 2 tsp of mixture. Steep 10 minutes & strain.

*can become toxic, so only drink 2 cups of this mixture daily for no more than 3 days*

Blood Builder Tea

1 tsp Rose Hips-crushed
1 Tsp Butcher's Broom
1 Tsp Yellow Dock

Bring 3 1/2 cups of water to a boil. Remove water from heat and add herbs. Place a tight lid on the pot. Let the mixture steep for five to ten minutes. Drink one cup three times daily. Yields three cups.

Blossoms of Health Tea

Beautiful to look at, nectar to taste and good for you. A popular tea. Spirited, uplifting and energizing.

1 part ginkgo leaves
1 part red clover tops
1 part nettle leaves
1 part meadowsweet leaves
1 part calendula
2 parts chamomile
2 parts lavender flowers
1 part gotu kola leaves
a pinch of stevia.

Place all herbs in a tea ball or bag, put in your nicest or most favorite cup or mug, and cover with boiling water. Steep for 10 minutes.

Remove tea ball or bag, and add sugar, honey, sweetener, milk, cream or whatever, to taste.

Blues Tea

1 part Nettle leaves,
1 part St Johns wort tops
2 parts spearmint
1 part damiana leaves
1 part kava kava root
a tiny pinch of stevia to taste

Place all herbs in a tea ball or bag, put in your nicest or most favorite cup or mug, and cover with boiling water. Steep for 10 minutes.

Remove tea ball or bag, and add sugar, honey, sweetener, milk, cream or whatever, to taste.

Breast Health Tea

2 parts calendula
2 parts red clover
1 part cleavers
1 part lady's mantle
Spearmint or peppermint (optional; for flavor)

Prepare as an infusion, using 1 ounce of herbs per quart of water, and letting steep overnight. Drink 3 to 4 cups daily.

Bronchial Congestion Tea

1 ½ oz Aniseed
1 oz Calendula flowers
¾ oz Marshmallow root
1/3 oz Licorice root

Crush aniseeds and add to herbs. Pour 1 cup boiling water over 1 tsp mixture; cover & steep 10 minutes.

Calming Tea 1

1 ½ oz Mullein flowers

Use 2 tbs of mixture per 1 cup hot water. Steep 10 minutes; strain. Drink only 2 - 3 cups per day for just a few days.

Winter Tea

Boneset
Echinacea
Peppermint

Just use equal parts of each, or pre-made tea bags...3 bags, 1 of boneset, 1 of echinacea, and 1 of peppermint.

The echinacea works as an immune system builder, the boneset is great for congestion, aches and fever (the classic flu symptoms), and the peppermint aids with any stomach complaints due to drainage from the sinuses, and just works as a great overall "feel-good".

Coughing Fits Tea

1 1/3 oz. St. John's Wort
2/3 oz. Thyme
2/3 oz. Linden Flowers

Use 1 tsp. of the herb mixture per cup of boiling water to soothe irritations of the upper respiratory tract that cause coughing. Steep for 5-10 min., strain, sweeten if necessary. This tea has proved helpful with bronchitis and whooping cough.

Stress-Reducing Rest

1/2 cup sweet hops
1/2 cup mugwort
1/8 cup sweet marjoram

All the following recipes have the same measurements. Unless otherwise stated, they were brewed in a coffee maker or tea brewer.

Measurements: 1 tablespoon of each type of herb
1 tablespoon of honey to sweeten the tea

Soar throat

Licorice root
Slippery Elm
Peppermint

The Common Cold

1 1/2 tablespoons of Licorice root already brewed in a pot enough for two cups.

Elderberry tea bag
Chamomile

Steep the tea bag in the Licorice Root infusion and add in the Chamomile. This can be done in the coffee maker, but the Licorice brew must be cool enough to be cycled through the machine.

Stomach ache

(nausea)

Must be done in a pot on the stove.

1 pod of Star Anise per cup
Chamomile (bag or tea ball)

Fever buster Tea

Catnip
White Oak bark
Chamomile

Must be ingested as hot as the person can take it. Chamomile can be substituted for any other fragrant herb. It is added in only for taste.

Dry, raspy cough

Licorice Root
Slippery Elm
Mullein
Catnip
Chamomile
Honey
Lemon 1 wedge

Aches and Pains Tea

1 Tablespoon White Willow Bark
1 Tablespoon Catnip

Put in a tea ball and steep in boiling hot water for five minutes. Drink as hot as you can stand it, then lie down for a nap.

Blood Builder Tea

1 tsp Rose Hips-crushed
1 Tsp Butcher's Broom
1 Tsp Yellow Dock

Bring 3 1/2 cups of water to a boil. Remove water from heat and add herbs. Place a tight lid on the pot. Let the mixture steep for five to ten minutes. Drink one cup three times daily. Yields three cups.

Constipation Tea

1/2 teaspoon Cascara Sagrada
1 teaspoon Chamomile
Take in one dose before bedtime. One coffee cup full should do it.

Cramp Tea

1 teaspoon Cramp Bark
1 teaspoon Red Raspberry Leaves
1 teaspoon Dong Quai

Take this tea in coffee cup full glasses. This makes enough for two cups. The tea is only good for six hours.

Detox Tea

1 Teaspoon Pau D'Arco (Taheebo)
1 Teaspoon Cascara Sagrada
1 Teaspoon Echinacea

Bring 1 1/2 cups water to a boil. Place herbs into the water, cover tightly and let steep for five minutes. I cup two times a day should help. If bowels are loose, dilute combination in 2 to 2 1/2 cups water.

Dry Congestion Tea

(For thick congestion and irritated mucous membranes.)

2 parts Eyebright
1 part Catnip
2 parts Thyme
1 part Goldenrod

Steep 1-1/2 to 2 tsp in a larger cup, such as a coffee mug, for 10 minutes. You will likely need lemon or honey, as this remedy is rather bitter. Very soothing. Try to stay warm while drinking, and for a time afterwards.

**If you experience any discomfort or unpleasant effects while drinking this tea, discontinue use. All herbs listed above are generally safe, though precautions should always be taken when using any type of medicine.*

During cold or sinus season Tea

1 small handful (about 1/4 cup) dried thyme
1 small handful (about 1/4 cup) dried feverfew flowers
1 large handful (about 3/4 cup) dried peppermint leaves
1 Tablespoon dried and rubbed or crushed sage

End of Your Rope Tea

1 Tablespoon Chamomile
1 Tablespoon Peppermint

Put in a tea ball and steep in boiling hot water for five minutes.

Epilepsy Combination

1 tsp Valerian
1 tsp Skullcap
1 tsp Hops

Bring water to a boil and add herbs. Cover pot with lid and let steep for 5 minutes..

Tea For Digestive Problems

1oz. chamomile
2/3 oz. peppermint
1 oz. caraway seeds
2/3 oz. angelica

Use 1 tsp of the mixture per cup of hot water. Steep the mixture 10 min. and strain.

This tea soothes the gastrointestinal tract and stimulates digestive activity, making it useful for stomachaches or a too-full feeling

Heartburn Tea

1 tablespoon Chamomile
1 table spoon Peppermint
2 pods Star Anise

Boil pods for 5 minutes and steep the chamomile and peppermint in the Anise tea. Drink one cup every hour for two hours before bedtime.

Hops Sleep Blend

2 ounces Hops, dried
2 ounces of chamomile, dried
1/2 ounce Eucalyptus leaves, dried
1 ounce Lemon Balm
1 ounce Orris Root powder
3 drops Lemon Balm essential oil

Memory Minder Tea

1 tsp Gingko Biloba
1 tsp Panax Ginseng
1 tsp Peppermint

Bring two cups of water to a boil. Add herbs and place a tight lid over the pot for five to ten minutes. Take one cup in the morning and one cup around mid-day.

Stop that Cough Tea

1 tablespoon Slippery Elm
1 tablespoon Mullein
1 tablespoon Catnip
1 tablespoon Licorice root bark

Boil the bark first in two cups worth of water for 10 minutes. Place the rest of the herbs in a coffee filter and place the filter in a strainer. Strain the Licorice tea through the strainer into a mug and drink. Honey and lemon can be added.

Super Relaxer Tea

1 part (1 teaspoon) valerian root (dried)
1 part (1 teaspoon) Chamomile flowers (dried)
In a Teapot pour in 2 mug fulls of hot water (not boiling) steep for 5 mins. Strain or remove tea bags.

Add honey if desired. This is great at night before bed

Tranquillity Tea

Mix:

2 parts Red Clover blossoms
2 parts Rose Hips
1 part German Chamomile flowers
1 part Peppermint leaves

Very Odd Cure for Bad Breath

Drink tea.

Researchers from the College of Dentistry at the University of Illinois at Chicago say compounds in tea can slow the growth of bacteria in our mouths, which is the primary cause of bad breath. The magic ingredients are antioxidants called polyphenols, and they are found in both green and black teas.

It's the bacteria that live on the back surface of the tongue and in the deep pockets between the gums and teeth that make our breath smell bad. The bacteria "make horrible, smelly stuff," lead study author Christine D. Wu explained to Reuters in an interview. "That's why we get bad breath."

Wu and her colleagues showed in earlier studies that black tea can slow dental plaque formation and help your toothpaste work more effectively. Her latest laboratory experiments have shown that tea's polyphenols not only inhibit three species of bacteria that cause halitosis, but also stop an enzyme that causes the formation of hydrogen sulfide--the ultimate culprit for rotten breath.

But here's the catch: Tea won't sweeten your breath. So don't throw out the mouthwash just yet. "All we can say is that a cup of tea will produce more than enough of these active materials to affect the bacteria," she said. "Remember, this is a lab study. In the mouth, bacteria are protected by all sorts of things."

Baby Sleep Tea

1 tsp hops
1 tsp Chamomile

Place 4 cups of water into a glass or procelain pot and bring to a boil. Take the pot of the heat and add the herbals. Put a tight lid on the pot and let it steep for five minutes. Strain out herbals.

Place in four ounce glass bottle after it is cool enough for baby and let them drink it.

Depression Tamer Tea

1 tsp St John's Wort
1 tsp Gingko Biloba

Place 1 cup of water into a glass or procelain pot and bring to a boil. Take the pot of the heat and add the herbals. Put a tight lid on the pot and let it steep for five minutes. Strain out herbals. Place in a cup and sweeten with honey of desired.

The Inside of a Normal, Healthy Colon

In a normal, healthy colon, there is plenty of room for the fecal matter to move through. Notice that there is no impacted fecal matter lining the walls of the colon. The digested food will be able to move quickly through the colon in 24 to 48 hours

The Inside of a Clogged, Constipated Colon

In a clogged, constipated colon, there may only be a narrow, tiny opening in the center of the colon. Digested food will have a very hard time going through the colon. In many cases, the food and mucus can become impacted and stay in the colon for months and even years.

ABOUT THE TEA

Dr. Miller's Holy Tea is formulated by Dr. Bill Miller, Ph.D. and contains all natural ingredients and has been used with great results for over 20 years.

The tea helps detoxify chemicals caused by the standard American diet, air pollutants, and chemicals we all ingest due to food additives, parasites, second hand smoke, etc.

The tea works by gently cleansing the bowels, which in turn purifies the blood and brings the body to peak optimal functioning.

It regulates the bowels and helps eliminate fecal buildup that may be poisoning the system.

INGREDIENTS

Persimmon Leaf - a good source of important dietary antioxidants, such as vitamin A & C, and flavonoids, have been widely used as a tea in oriental countries.

Persimmon leaves have beneficial effects on hemostasis, constipation, hypertension, apoplexy, and atherosclerosis.

Malva Leaf (Chinese Mallow) - Often made into a tea to soothe the membranes of the digestive system. Malva Leaf is mildly astringent and diuretic and used to treat gastroenteritis, stomach ache and conditions of the spleen. The Chinese use Malva Leaf as an expectorant and as a gargle for sore throat. Malva Leaf is also thought to be a mild laxative.

The seeds are used in Tibetan medicine, where they are considered to have a sweet and astringent taste plus a healing potency. They are used in the treatment of renal disorders, the retention of fluids, frequent thirst and diarrhea.

Holy Thistle - Holy Thistle supports the liver in the release of toxins. Holy thistle has been used medicinally for over 2000 years, most commonly for the treatment of liver and gallbladder disorders. Holy thistle products are popular in Europe and the United States for various types of liver disease. Holy thistle is believed to have great power in the purification and circulation of the blood. It is such a good blood purifier that drinking a cup of thistle tea twice a day will cure chronic headaches. Used for stomach and digestive problems, gas in the intestines, constipation, and liver troubles. It is very effective for dropsy, strengthens the heart, and is good for the liver, lungs, and kidneys. It is claimed that the warm tea given to mothers will produce a good supply of milk. It is also said to be good for girls entering womanhood as a good tonic.

Marshmallow Root/Leaf - Traditionally used to soothe and support the intestines. It is an old time remedy for bladder infection, digestive upsets, fluid retention, intestinal disorders, kidney problems, sinusitis and sore throat.

Marshmallow is a natural source of beta-carotene, amino acids, minerals and vitamins and is often used as a filler in the compounding of pills. Primary chemical constituents in Marshmallow include substantial mucilage, polysaccharides, flavonoids (quercetin), kaempferol, asparagine, tannins, lecithin and pectin. The great demulcent and emollient properties of Marshmallow make it useful in inflammation and irritation of the alimentary canal and of the urinary and respiratory organs. Recently, Marshmallow has been used as an expectorant to treat a variety of upper respiratory problems. Marshmallow also contains large amounts of vitamin A, calcium, zinc and significant amounts of iron, sodium, iodine and B-complex vitamins. Like slippery elm, Marshmallow reduces inflammation and has a calming effect on the body. (Note: taking Marshmallow and iron together may reduce the absorption of the iron.)

Blessed Thistle - Blessed Thistle has been recorded as far back as the early sixteenth century for treating smallpox, fever, anorexia, dyspepsia, indigestion, constipation, and flatulence. More recently it has shown to be useful in: Indigestion, heartburn and poor appetite. In herbal medicine today, blessed thistle is used to treat cancer as well as infections, heart and liver ailments, and fevers.

1. Watch your faces and record the time the last of the charcoal leaves (should appear black). The time between ingestion and the last bit leaving is your transit time. After you've been treating your colon for 1-2 months you may want to recheck and see if it has improved.
2. A diet low in roughage and high in refined carbohydrates can also cause diverticulitis (out-pocketing of the colon caused by hardened feces and the extra strain to move them), constipation, and bacterial changes (due to the fermentation and putrefaction).
3. People on a high fiber diet have lactobacillus and streptococcus as their main intestinal flora. On a low fiber diet, E. coli proliferate (especially if your refined carbohydrate intake - white flour, white sugar, etc., is high) can lead to diverticulitis, cystitis, appendicitis, gallbladder inflammation. Antibiotics can also change the bacterial flora for the worse.
4. In a colon with a slowed transit time, bacterial imbalance, and low roughage, bile acids upon reaching the colon can be converted into carcinogenic substances. Staying in contact with the colon walls for long periods of time, these substances can possibly be a cause of colon cancer. Toxins, poisons, and free radicals from the plaque itself and from pathogenic bacteria and parasites living in and under the plaque constantly seep into the bloodstream and lymph, settling in the weaker areas of the body, especially the liver, kidneys and spleen. Bile acid breakdown products (lithocholates) also signals the liver to decrease bile acid production. Since cholesterol is used to synthesize bile acids, a decreased synthesis will raise cholesterol levels and also increase susceptibility to gallstones.

5. People in "primitive" societies on diets of unrefined foods exhibit very low incidences of colon problems.
6. Causes of colitis include adrenal insufficiency, a weak immune system, diminished secretion of hydrochloric acid, decreased roughage, increased use of refined carbohydrates, stress, antibiotics, eating food you're allergic to.
7. Besides an imbalance in intestinal flora, a high fat intake is correlated to a high incidence of colon cancer. This includes refined animal and vegetable fat. Meat fat when exposed to air can form malonaldehyde (commonly found in rancid foods) which is especially suspect of causing colon cancer. Spices, beer, high protein diets, and alcohol are also suspect in colon cancer.
8. Nerve pressure in the lumbar spine can cause colon dysfunction
9. Haemorrhoids can be caused by a congested liver, adrenal insufficiency and a low roughage, high refined carbohydrate diet.
10. If your stomach or small intestine are malfunctioning or you don't chew well, and partially undigested food reaches the colon, it will putrefy and can damage the colon as a result (for more information please read "Cleanse & Purify Thyself")
11. Diarrhea can be a sign of colon dysfunction. It can also be due to eating something you're allergic to, a ileocecal valve that is not closing properly, vitamin B deficiency, medication side effects. It could also be your body's effort to flush through a harmful substance as quickly as possible.
12. Constipation can injure the colon or be a sign of a malfunctioning colon. Causes include a low roughage diet, food allergies, wearing restrictive clothing, not drinking enough water, lack of exercise, chronic use of laxatives exhausting bowel tone, spastic ileocecal valve, worrying, and side effect of certain medications.
13. Voluntarily inhibiting your external sphincter muscle too often, to prevent defecation, can cause constipation and retard the reflex, leading to an atonic (out of shape) colon. Establishing regularity is very important in preventing constipation.
14. The thyroid, adrenals, liver and parathyroid should also be evaluated by your health practitioner in cases of constipation as possible causes.
15. Some also believe that a bowel movement should occur regularly, aiding and abetting nutritional cycles. Infrequent movements or periods of constipation (especially those extending beyond 72 hours) can result in a partial decomposition of waste, which can encrust the colon walls and hinder elimination. When we don't eliminate our waste, toxins back up in the colon which can cause "auto-intoxication", or self-poisoning. This occurs when the bowel walls become encrusted with uneliminated fecal matter, hampering the absorption of vital nutrients and providing a breeding ground for unhealthy bacteria. Blood capillaries lining the bowel wall absorb these toxins into the bloodstream, consequently polluting all our organs and cells. When the walls of the colon are packed (or lined) with accumulated feces, the colon cannot absorb nutrients or eliminate wastes properly. Food cannot be processed efficiently in the colon, if unfriendly bacteria begins to grow. Fermentation and putrefaction of undigested food results, and toxins (poisons) are formed.

There are some 36 poisons that pollute the body. They include indole, skatole, phenol, creosole, putrescine, cadaverine, sepsin and others. In cases of alimentary toxemia, one or several of these poisons are constantly bombarding the delicate body cells. This can cause disease, one of which is the dreaded colon cancer. Visit Our Holy Tea Health Shop: <http://beam.to/holy-tea-health>
